*"BELLA GAIA transported me back into orbit, to feel the beauty and power of the earth."
John Grunsfeld, NASA Astronaut, Spacewalker*

This performance is a 30min 360-degree experience version of BELLA GAIA in the new planetarium theater at the Lower East Side Girls Club's facility. Williams performs solo violin with Kristin Hoffmann, alongside spectacular immersive visuals and in collaboration with a small choir of young singers from LESGC performing as accompanist, composed and directed by John Del Cueto. This event is funded in part by LMCC

BELLA GAIA (Beautiful Earth) is an astoundingly moving multimedia presentation created and composed by award winning filmmaker, composer, and violinist Kenji Williams. BELLA GAIA successfully simulates space flight, and uses live music and art performance, large-scale projected NASA scientific visualizations, cutting-edge technology and a thought-provoking stream of crucial scientific data to showcase the amazing art and cultural heritage of civilizations inhabiting planet Earth. A "Living Atlas" journey of our planet, BELLA GAIA removes any intermediary, creating for the audience a direct experience and connection to the creative forces on Earth, in Outer Space, and within ourselves.
